Overview of NASET

The National Association of Special Education Teachers is a national membership organization dedicated to rendering all possible support and assistance to those preparing for or teaching in the field of special education. NASET was founded to promote the profession of special education teachers and to provide a national forum for their ideas.

The National Association of Special Education Teachers is a national professional association that seeks to meet a critical need for many of America's special education teachers. NASET was established as a professional organization for former, current, and future special education teachers who had no professional organization to call their own. NASET develops and promotes professional excellence through the support of teachers who provide services to children with special needs.

The National Association of Special Education Teachers is dedicated to ensuring that all children and adolescents with special needs receive the best education possible. NASET serves the professional interest of special education teachers in order to promote the highest professional standards.

The National Association of Special Education Teachers helps members stay abreast of current issues that are shaping the field, affecting the lives of students, and influencing professional careers. NASET is committed to standards of excellence and innovation in educational research, practice, and policy. NASET works to enhance professional practice for teachers of special education and to build public support for high quality special education programs.

The National Association of Special Education Teachers represents the very best in our profession. We take our direction from practicing special education teachers who have been recognized for their excellence and vision. NASET advances and encourages the professional development of its members through networking, research, publications, and membership benefits. We hope you will take time to learn more about us and consider joining us in promoting a strong national association dedicated solely for teachers in the field of special education.

Mission Statement

The mission of The National Association of Special Education Teachers (NASET) is to render all possible support and assistance to professionals who teach children with special needs. NASET seeks to promote standards of excellence and innovation in special education research, practice, and policy in order to foster exceptional teaching for exceptional children.

Welcome to NASET: A Message from the Executive Directors

It is our pleasure to welcome you to the National Association of Special Education Teachers' (NASET) Website. As Executive Directors of NASET, we invite you to become a member of our professional association. With backgrounds in public school teaching, school psychology, administration in secondary special education and a current university professor in special education, we know that your involvement in NASET will be a rewarding experience. Today, more than ever, an active NASET is essential to the well being of the profession and the services we provide.

The concept of NASET was first initiated when we were looking to join a national organization dedicated solely to the professional growth and development of special education teachers throughout the United States. As full-time university graduate professors in special education departments, we wanted our students to be able to keep up to date with the most current events, legislation, commentaries, etc. affecting special education teachers. To our amazement, we found no organization throughout the United States that was a professional organization dedicated solely to special education teachers. After discussing it with many colleagues in the field, we felt that the establishment of The National Association of Special Education Teachers needed to be commenced. The feedback we received on developing NASET was overwhelmingly positive, and it set the ball in motion for great things to come for this organization.

NASET is ever mindful that teachers do not always receive the recognition and support they deserve for the important and difficult job they do. As teachers prepare students for the future, especially special needs students, they do so with the understanding that there will be changes taking place, and they must grow with these changes. NASET is growing and developing its ability to provide a professional service to its members. There is a wealth of knowledge in the members of the association. Everyone has something he or she can contribute to the good of the membership. Education is a powerful tool and one that can make all the difference in how our profession grows and prospers in the future. We encourage members to not only seek education for themselves, but share your knowledge with your colleagues.

We would like to officially welcome all new members to NASET. It is your energy, dedication, enthusiasm, leadership, integrity, professionalism, and exemplary service that make our positions so rewarding. NASET is your professional organization and needs a variety of voices to make it strong. This is your organization; please help make it the best in the country. We are convinced we have a great future ahead of us. We welcome any suggestions on how NASET can better serve you. We are honored to serve as Executive Directors of NASET and prepared to dedicate our time and energy to fulfill the destiny of the association.

Sincerely yours,

Dr. Roger Pierangelo & Dr. George Giuliani

Executive Directors

"I appreciate having access to the various resources provided by NASET membership, as well as having an organization that can address specific questions and/or concerns involving special education."

"NASET provides information that keeps me up-to-date on special education issues."

"I would renew immediately so as not to miss a thing. The dues are very affordable, not like CEC, which I am also a member of. I get more from NASET than I do CEC for less than 1/2 the money. Thanks"

"The organization provides me with resources, conveniently located and easily accessible, on the wide variety of issues I have to deal with on a daily basis. The updates on current research are invaluable."

"I love the website, and have highly recommended it to my colleagues. I frequently use the information in the handouts for the general education staff that are struggling with student behaviors, and even gave one on managing bus behavior to our transportation supervisor. Please keep up the good work!"

"Wonderful and practical information that I could use as I work with people with differences."

"It keeps me informed about what's happening in my field. I also like that it reports what the research is showing."

"The articles are very informative. I feel a part of a larger community having NASET"

"Up to date, easy to read professional information in many areas, regarding my profession."

"I am getting everything I need. NASET supplies me with more than enough information for which I am very glad I joined. I am often supplying other teachers with recommendations about classroom problems and am recommending NASET to them."

"The articles have proved helpful in both my roles as an RTI teacher and as a professor."

"NASET has been very instrumental in providing current and constructive information that relate to Special Education. Articles on instructional strategies / classroom management and or parent conferences were very carefully written."

"I am finding that becoming a member of NASET has allowed me an opportunity to receive information about our profession. I didn't think there was a professional organization for Special Education teachers until I searched the Internet and found this one."

"I wish I had known about this when I started teaching Resource/lifeskills. What a wonderful site and professional association."

"I cannot thank you enough for your tip sheets, guides and basic information. Everything is extremely useful, practical and brief. I work with new special education teachers and your information has been at the top of my request list!"

"I like the features like Q&A, RTI Roundtable, and the Behavior Management Series very much. Please continue."

"I have found a great deal of information and research that I have used for training my staff. The easy access to this information makes my job a lot easier."

".. and before I say anything further, can I just say what an asset it is to be a member as a Learning Support teacher - even though I'm over at the other 'side of the pond!' - in Ireland!"

"I am a student with just two courses and student teaching left before licensure. I love the NASET webpage, which I find both informative and approachable. Reading the articles is helping me to approach special education more as a professional than a student."

"I do want to just say I am a fairly new member of NASET and I am impressed and proud to be a member of an organization that is of the caliber of this organization. Each time I have a question I get a response in short order and it is always helpful. Thanks so much."
